Foreign Policy After The Cold War Guided Reading:

The Cold War and After Richard Saull, 2007-01-20 The Cold War is often presented as an international power struggle between the Soviet Union and the US Richard Saull challenges this assumption He broadens our understanding of the defining political conflict of the twentieth century by stressing the social and ideological differences of the superpowers and how these differences conditioned their international behaviour Saull argues that US Soviet antagonism was part of a wider conflict between capitalism and communism involving states and social forces other than the superpowers The US was committed to containing revolutionary and communist movements that emerged out of uneven capitalist development In highlighting the socio economic and ideological dimensions of the Cold War Saull not only provides a richer history of the Cold War than mainstream approaches but is also able to explain why revolutionary domestic transformations caused international crises Tracing the origins of new resistance to American global power Saull's book provides an ideal alternative perspective on the Cold War and its end

Conflict After the Cold War Richard K. American Democracy Promotion Michael Cox, G. John Ikenberry, Takashi Inoguchi, 2000 Why does the United States promote democracy How successful has it been And why do critics often attack it for doing so These are at least three of the questions examined in this wide ranging discussion of American efforts to recast the international order in its own political image The answers provided by a distinguished group of analysts are as diverse as they are challenging to traditional ways of thinking about US democracy promotion in terms of either a misconstrued moralism or an ideological facade masking some deeper more sinister purpose As we enter into the Twenty First century with American hegemony intact it is vital to understand what drives the world's last remaining superpower And this original study helps us do precisely that by exploring in detail and depth one of the more contentious least analysed and most misunderstood aspects of American foreign policy The Americans McDougal-Littell Publishing Staff, 2002-03-04 The Future of the International Legal Order, Volume 3 Cyril E. Black, Richard A. Falk, 2019-01-29 The eleven contributors to this volume come to grips with the hard realities of controlling war in our modern interrelated world All of them deal directly with the role of law in the management of conflict From Cyril E Black's introductory chapter Conflict Management and World Order to Richard J Barnett's concluding chapter Toward the Control of International Violence The Limits and the Possibilities of Law each expert moves from analysis of some immediate problem of international legal control to the direct application of law to war The contributors include Tom J Farer Rosalyn Higgins John Norton Moore Daniel Wiles William B Bader Arnold Kramish Mason Willrich W Michael Reisman and Harold Feiveson Conflict Management is the third volume in a large scale collaborative research project intended to focus the attention of international lawyers and social scientists on the near future of the international legal order A brochure describing the entire series is available Cyril E Black is Duke Professor of Russian History and Director of the Center of International Studies Princeton University Richard A Falk is Milbank Professor of International Law and Practice Princeton University Written under the auspices of the Center of International Studies Princeton University Originally published in 1971 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Perceptions of China and White House Decision-Making, 1941-1963 Adam S.R. Bartley, 2019-11-26 This book assesses and evaluates the decision making behavior of United States presidents and their chief advisers from Roosevelt to Kennedy pertaining to China Seeking to dispel with the notion that each administration sought policy outcomes on the basis of a rational decision making model Bartley highlights the contradictions of adopted presidential decision making processes and the nature of domestic politics as playing prejudicial and debilitating roles The book demonstrates that elite decision making processes interacted with assumptions made about Chinese behavior interests and attitudes only superficially and in some cases not at all Misinformation and misperception were the natural outcomes Reinforced by the politics of McCarthyism at home intellectual debate on China policy was squashed parochialism and nuance were shunned and information was closed off Ultimately a divorce between the norm of behavior and the search for rational policy was registered in each administration The net result was a lasting and destructive cognitive dissonance to fit expectations of a China reality constructed information was ignored overlooked and distorted Offering new insights into the China policies of consecutive administrations from 1941 to 1963 this volume will be of great interest to scholars and students of American foreign policy security studies and international relations Encyclopedia of the Cold War Ruud van Dijk, William Glenn Gray, Svetlana Savranskaya, Jeremi Suri, Qiang Zhai, 2013-05-13 Between 1945 and 1991 tension between the USA its allies and a group of nations led by the USSR dominated world politics This period was called the Cold War a conflict that stopped short to a full blown war Benefiting from the recent research of newly open archives the Encyclopedia of the Cold War discusses how this state of perpetual tensions arose developed and was resolved This work examines the military economic diplomatic and political evolution of the conflict as well as its impact on the different regions and cultures of the world Using a unique geopolitical approach that will present Russian perspectives and others the work covers all aspects of the Cold War from communism to nuclear escalation and from UFOs to red diaper babies highlighting its vast ranging and lasting impact on international relations as well as on daily life Although the work will focus on the 1945 1991 period it will explore the roots of the conflict starting with the formation of the Soviet state and its legacy to the present day Coping with Conflict After the Cold War Edward A. Kolodziej, Roger E. Kanet, 1996 This volume provides answers to the question of how the international community might cope with armed conflict after the Cold War It identifies key actors states and international organizations that have the resources and potentially the will to address the problems of continuing violence and enduring conflicts The book also evaluates the roles and strategies that might be adopted by these actors unilaterally or cooperatively to ease or end such armed struggles The authors review the role of the United States Russia Japan and China all of which have the potential to play constructive roles in resolving conflicts They also explore the contributions that the United Nations the European Community and other transnational organizations can make to building a more peaceful and secure world Instead of appealing to grand theory as a guide for coping the authors conclude different mixes of actors resources roles and strategies will have to be fashioned to meet the special needs of each conflict Coping is viewed as an international imperative and not as the responsibility or prerogative of any one actor The volume will be of interest to anyone concerned with international relations international organizations and security issues Contributors are Arthur J Alexander Mohammed Ayoob Nicole Ball Paul F Diehl Roger E Kanet Samuel S Kim Edward A Kolodziej Edward J Laurence David F Linowes Patrick M Morgan Jack Snyder Janice Gross Stein and I William Zartman Containment and the Cold War: American Foreign Policy Since 1945 Thomas G.
