Forecasting An Appraisal For Policy Makers And Planners:

Forecasting William Ascher,1978-02-17 Abstract Forecasting is a new and still changing field One of the most important factors in the relationships between method and result is that core assumptions are more important than sophisticated techniques improved technique does not compensate for faulty assumptions Forecasting is still an art and one that is difficult to master The uses of forecasting can be so varied and applied to so many different disciplines that it s worth making the effort The appraisal of forecasts and the choice of the most likely from a group focusing on the same area is also a type of forecasting

Time, Planning, and Policy Making Gerald Schneider,1991 How should governments deal with the future This question is still the cornerstone in the clash between different ideologies However despite the lasting debate almost no empirical evidence exists about the impact of the conflicting schemes The present book is a systematic and comparative attempt to shed light on this complex matter The in depth evaluation of crucial planning papers of 40 governments leads to an understanding of the theoretically salient relationship between time planning and policy making

Making Essential Choices with Scant Information T. Williams,K. Samset,K. Sunnevåg,2009-03-26 An in depth look at how to improve decisions on major projects at the concept stage when there is scant information available This book describes how to evaluate judgemental information It looks at how scant information can actually be a strength and can help establish a broad overall perspective

International Handbook on Transport and Development R. Hickman,D. Bonilla,M. Givoni,D. Banister,2015-08-28 In the last forty years or so the research field exploring the relationship and interaction between transport and development has developed rapidly While sophistication in analysis has increased understanding the effective integration of transport and development often remains poor in theory and in practice with sometimes devastating effects This Handbookprovides a comprehensive analysis of both the current and emerging thinking in this field drawing on multidisciplinary thinking in transport planning transport urban and spatial economics and the wider social sciences With 45 chapters from leading international authors the book is organised around three main themes urban structure and travel transport and spatial impacts wider dimensions in transport and development The chapters each present commentary on key issues within these themes presenting the debate on the impacts of urban structure on travel the impacts of transport investment on development and social and cultural change on travel A multitude of competing inter disciplinary perspectives are considered leaving the reader with an invaluable comprehensive and critical understanding of the field This major Handbookwill serve as a guide for undergraduates and graduate students researchers consultants and also practitioners and policy makers wishing to find a comprehensive and original reference to research on transport and development Contributors J A Annema F Avelino D Banister D Bonilla F Bruinsma C C Cantarelli X Jason Cao C L Chen G Cohen Blankshtain C Curtis G Dane J Dodson A Donald R Dowling M Echenique A El Geneidy R Ewing E Feitelson B Flyvbjerg N Garrick H Geerlings K Geurs M Givoni A R Goetz P Gordon A Grigolon D Halden P Hall I Hamiduddin S Handy P Headicar D A Hensher D Hidalgo R

Panels for Transportation Planning Thomas F. Golob, Ryuichi Kitamura, Lyn Long, 2013-03-14 Panels for Transportation Planning argues that panels repeated measurements on the same sets of households or individuals over time can more effectively capture dynamic changes in travel behavior and the factors which underlie these changes than can conventional cross sectional surveys Because panels can collect information on household attributes attitudes and perceptions residential and employment choices travel behavior and other variables and then can collect information on changes in these variables over time they help us to understand how and why people choose to travel as they do and how and why these choices are likely to evolve in the future This book is designed for a wide audience survey researchers who seek information on methodological advancements and applications transportation planners who want an improved understanding of dynamic changes in travel behavior and instructors of graduate courses in urban and transportation planning research methods economics sociology and public policy Each chapter has been prepared to stand alone to illustrate a particular theme or application The book is divided into topical parts which address the most salient issues in the use of panels for transportation planning panels as evaluation tools regional planning applications accounting for response bias and modeling and forecasting issues These parts describe panel applications in the US Australia Great Britain Japan and the Netherlands Each chapter is supplemented by extensive references more than 400 studies reflecting the work of more than 700 authors are cited in the text Harvard Business Review Library: Planning & control. 11 v, 1968 Ethics in Planning Wachs, Martin, Planning, Institutions, and Decision-making Martin Wachs, 1985 International Journal of Forecasting International institute of forecasters, 1993 Journal of Economic Literature, 1979 The Indian Journal of Public Administration, 1980 The Journal of the Institute for Socioeconomic Studies Institute for Socioeconomic Studies, 1978 The Handbook of Forecasting Spyros G.
