Fostering Entrepreneurship In Armenia Directions In Development:

Fostering Entrepreneurship in Armenia Smita Kuriakose, 2013-09-27 Job creation and productivity growth are at the forefront of the global development agenda. The central challenge today for the government of Armenia is to find new sources of long term economic growth to become an upper middle income country with a view to experiencing a substantial transformation of its economic structure to one that is resilient to external shocks in the medium term. A dynamic and vibrant private sector is thus crucial to Armenia's economic growth with firms making new investments creating jobs improving productivity and promoting growth. Entrepreneurial activity is pivotal to the continued dynamism of the private sector with the generation of new businesses fostering competition and economic growth. This study seeks to identify determinants of high growth entrepreneurial activity. The study uses data from the new 2012 World Bank Entrepreneurship Survey conducted to gauge new firm growth in the formal sector in Armenia and data from World Bank Enterprise Surveys to analyze innovative activity in existing firms. It includes detailed case study analyses to complement these findings. The study finds that while there is a higher level of entrepreneurial activity in Armenia when compared to its neighbor Georgia however there remain a number of constraints that inhibit the growth of entrepreneurial and innovative activity. These constraints include a major skills mismatch ineffective industry research linkages and a lack of access to risk capital. While outlining broad policy directions in areas namely improving business environment access to finance developing skills incentivizing greater industry research collaboration and raising awareness it lays out some priority areas that the government could embark on. The government could remove bottlenecks from the general business environment that impede able entrepreneurs with good ideas from starting a new venture and creating jobs. This would include strengthening the business environment to allow failure and company exit as a necessary part of entrepreneurial learning company incentives that favor entrepreneurs with good ideas instruments that enable entrepreneurs to access capital for startups and instruments to tap into the vast diaspora pool both in terms of knowledge and capital. We hope that the issues discussed and the dialogue initiated during the course of this study would lend itself to policy design to foster high growth entrepreneurship with a view to higher growth and job creation in this highly globalized world.

Fostering Entrepreneurship in Armenia Smita Kuriakose, 2013 The central challenge facing the government of Armenia today is the need to transform its economic infrastructure into one that in the medium term is resilient to external shocks. To do so it needs to find new sources of long term economic growth that will enable it to become an upper middle income country. Crucial to achieving this objective is a dynamic and vibrant private sector and in particular entrepreneurial activity which generates new businesses and fosters competition and economic growth. Fostering Entrepreneurship in Armenia uses data and in depth case studies to identify the determinants of high growth entrepreneurial activity. It finds that while there is a higher level of entrepreneurial activity in Armenia compared with other countries in the region a number of constraints to the growth of entrepreneurial and innovative activity remain

Based on these findings the book outlines broad policy directions for improving the business environment providing access to finance developing skills increasing access to markets incentivizing firm level research and development and raising awareness and it identifies priority areas for government action The issues discussed in this book will be of particular interest to policy makers who are aiming to achieve higher growth and job creation through entrepreneurship as well as to development practitioners and those in the private sector Page 4 of cover Technological Horizons of Decarbonization Based on Environmental Innovations Elena G. Popkova,2025-08-02 This book highlights the technological horizons of decarbonization in the digital economy based on environmental innovations It reveals the advantages of digital technologies and innovations for decarbonization and identifies the industry features of decarbonization based on digital technologies and innovations The book describes in detail and discusses the international experience of decarbonization of the economy with the use of digital technologies and innovations A set of authors recommendations has been developed to unlock the potential of decarbonization based on digital technologies and innovations Applied solutions for the use of digital technologies and innovations in the interests of decarbonization have also been proposed SME Policy Index: Eastern Partner Countries 2024 Building Resilience in Challenging Times OECD,European Bank for Reconstruction and Development,2023-12-13 The SME Policy Index Eastern Partner Countries 2024 Building resilience in challenging times is a unique benchmarking tool to assess and monitor progress in the design and implementation of SME policies against EU and international best practice
