

Seen Inside Horton:
From Dear Doctor on a Road

1. Where is Orlando located?
Central Florida
2. What did Horton typically get a whipping for doing when she was youngest?
She would hickhike with strangers for half a mile.
3. Why did the two "white women" come to visit Horton's school?
"A Negro school was something strange to them... curiosity must have been present..."
4. What is a rape?
A penis.
5. What thing happened as soon as the visitors came to school?
"... we would be cautioned to put on shoes, comb our heads, and see to ears and fingernails. There was a close inspection of every one of us before we marched in that morning. Dirty heads, dirty ears and fingernails got handed out of line, stopped and sent home to lick the calf over again."
6. What grade is Horton in?
Fifth.
7. Describe the visitors according to Horton:
 1. "They had shiny hair, mostly brownish. One had a looping gold chain around her neck. The other one was dressed all over in black and white with a pretty finger ring on her left hand."
 2. "But the thing that held my eye were their fingers. They were long and thin, and very white, except up near the tips. There they were baby pink. I had never seen such hands."
8. Why did the teacher ask Horton to read until the end of the story?
"Mr. Calhoun broke out with a proud smile... he nodded to me to go on."
9. What was the story about?
The Myth about Persephone
10. Why did Horton think she was in trouble?
"Not only was I barefooted, but my feet and legs were dirty. My hair was more uncombed than usual, and my nails were not shiny clean."
11. Which three things did Horton like about school?

Dust Tracks On A Road Questions And Answers:

Race and Form Dejin Xu, 2007 This study presents a contextualized narratology of African American autobiography The author compares eight autobiographies by seven African American writers from different periods namely Frederick Douglass Booker T Washington W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Maya Angelou and Gwendolyn Brooks and focuses on both the issue of race and such formal elements as temporal arrangement narrative situation narrative perspective present tense commentary unreliability as well as audience In addition to proposing a major framework for the narratology of autobiography in the opening chapter the succeeding practical analyses draw on other approaches such as stylistics and rhetoric which complement narratology in the investigation of how a story is presented 27 English Mocktime Publication, 101-01-01 generated by python docx

Ain't I an Anthropologist Jennifer L. Freeman Marshall, 2023-02-28 Iconic as a novelist and popular cultural figure Zora Neale Hurston remains underappreciated as an anthropologist Is it inevitable that Hurston's literary authority should eclipse her anthropological authority If not what socio cultural and institutional values and processes shape the different ways we read her work Jennifer L Freeman Marshall considers the polar receptions to Hurston's two areas of achievement by examining the critical response to her work across both fields Drawing on a wide range of readings Freeman Marshall explores Hurston's popular appeal as iconography her elevation into the literary canon her concurrent marginalization in anthropology despite her significant contributions and her place within constructions of Black feminist literary traditions Perceptive and original Ain't I an Anthropologist is an overdue reassessment of Zora Neale Hurston's place in American cultural and intellectual life Autobiographical Inscriptions Barbara Rodriguez, 1999-11-11 As life writing began to attract critical attention in the 1950s and 60s theorists critics and practitioners of autobiography concerned themselves with inscribing that is establishing or asserting a set of conventions that would define constructions of identity and acts of self representation More recently however scholars have identified the ways in which autobiographical works recognize and resist those conventions Moving beyond the narrow prescriptive definition of autobiography as the factual chronological first person narrative of the life story critics have theorized the genre from postmodern and feminist perspectives Autobiographical Inscriptions contributes a theory of autobiography by women writers of color to this lively repositioning of identity studies Barbara Rodriguez breaks new ground in the field with a discussion of the ways in which innovations of form and structure bolster the arguments for personhood articulated by Harriet Jacobs Zora Neale Hurston Hisaye Yamamoto Maxine Hong Kingston Leslie Marmon Silko Adrienne Kennedy and Cecile Pineda Rodriguez maps the intersections of form and structure with issues of race and gender in these women's works Central to the autobiographical act and to the representation of the self in language these intersections mark the ways in which the American woman writer of color comments on the process of subject construction as she produces original forms for the life story In each chapter Rodriguez pairs canonized texts with less well known works reading autobiographical works across cultural contexts and historical periods and even across artistic media By raising crucial questions about structure Autobiographical Inscriptions analyzes the ways in which these texts also destabilize notions of race and gender The result is a remarkable analysis of the seemingly endless range of formal strategies available to adopted and adapted by the American woman writer of color Feminism and Status of Women S. D. Mudgal, 2007 This book is primarily on the Indian situation in the context of feminism with special reference to the status of Indian women through the ages and the external influences that transform their life style in modern India In the development of our society the women of India had played a significant role Since ages she engaged herself in domestic environments though some of them left a mark having deep bearing on several phases of our society The modern woman is well awakened and is engaged to solve her social problems The Politics of Black Joy Lindsey Stewart, 2021-09-15 During the antebellum period slave owners weaponized southern Black joy to argue for enslavement propagating images of happy darkies In contrast abolitionists wielded sorrow by emphasizing racial oppression Both arguments were so effective that a political uneasiness on the subject still lingers In The Politics of Black Joy Lindsey Stewart wades into these uncomfortable waters by analyzing Zora Neale Hurston's uses of the concept of Black southern joy Stewart develops Hurston's contributions to political theory and philosophy of race by introducing the politics of joy as a refusal of neo abolitionism a political tradition that reduces southern Black life to tragedy or social death To develop the politics of joy Stewart draws upon Zora Neale Hurston's essays Beyoncé's Lemonade and figures across several disciplines including Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois Toni Morrison Angela Davis Saidiya Hartman Imani Perry Eddie Glaude and Audra Simpson The politics of joy offers insights that are crucial for forming needed new paths in our current moment For those interested in examining popular conceptions of Black political agency at the intersection of geography gender class and Black spirituality The Politics of Black Joy is essential reading Words to Own Eol 2000 G 11 Holt Rinehart & Winston, 1999-04-21 Girl Power Christy Rishoi, 2000 Women, America, and Movement Susan L. Roberson, 1998 Since the colonial days American women have traveled migrated and relocated always faced with the challenge of reconstructing their homes for themselves and their families Women America and Movement offers a journey through largely unexplored territory the experiences of migrating American women These narratives both real and imagined represent a range of personal and critical perspectives some of the women describe their travels as expansive and freeing while others relate the dreadful costs and sacrifices of relocating Despite the range of essays featured in this study the writings all coalesce around the issues of politics poetry and self identity described by Adrienne Rich as the elements of the politics of location treated here as the politics of relocation The narratives featured in this book explore the impact of race class and sexual economics on migratory women their self identity and their roles in family and social life These issues demonstrate that in addition to geographic place ideology is itself a space to be traversed By examining the writings of such women as Louise Erdrich Zora Neale Hurston and Gertrude Stein the essayists included in this volume offer a variety of experiences The book confronts such issues as racist politicking against Native Americans African Americans and Asian immigrants sexist attitudes that limit women to the roles of wife mother and sexual object and exploitation of migrants from Appalachia and of women newly arrived in America These essays also delve into the writings themselves by looking at what happens to narrative structure as authors or their characters cross geographic boundaries The reader sees how women writers negotiate relocation in their texts and how the written word becomes a place where one finds oneself
