El Lissitzky The Experience Of Totality:

El Lissitzky El Lissitzky, 2014 This is a fascinating and sumptuously illustrated overview of the work of El Lissitzky one of the 20th century's most influential and experimental artists Eliezer Lazar Markovich Lissitzky El Lissitzky 1890-1941 was one of the most experimental and controversial artists to work with the Russian and European avant garde during the early twentieth century Equally prolific as a painter designer architect and photographer he connected countries and cultures as a leading ambassador between the Soviet and European avant gardes of the 1920s promoting Suprematist and Constructivist art in the West and European abstract movements in Russia For El Lissitzky art was conceived not as a personal expression and production of objects but rather as a collective and social activity Working with the Russian painter and theoretician Kazimir Malevich he developed the new visual language of Suprematism an abstract art based upon the supremacy of pure artistic feeling rather than on visual depiction of objects which he applied not only to painting but also to print and book works architectural and theatre projects ceramics educational theory and propaganda Fusing this array of media his three dimensional work Proun Room used the actual space of a room to merge painting sculptural installation and architecture similarly with his students he adorned the trams and buildings of Vitebsk with Suprematist triangles and squares and used his Proun motifs to design costumes and machinery for the stage most famously for the 1920 Futurist opera Victory over the Sun This volume provides a comprehensive and superbly illustrated view of Lissitzky's influential career The Place of the Viewer Kerr Houston, 2019-05-07 In recent decades art historians and critics have occasionally emphasized a dynamic embodied mode of looking accenting the role of the viewer and the complex interplay between beholders and works of art In The Place of the Viewer Kerr Houston shows that an attention to the position and physical experiences of beholders has in fact long informed art historical analyses and that close study of the theme can lead to a fuller understanding of the discipline the act of viewership and individual works of art Simultaneously attentive to historical ideas and contemporary scholarship this book identifies a vein of thought that has been generally overlooked and proposes new ways of seeing familiar works and traditions Visions of Totality Steven A. Mansbach, 1980 Beyond Art: A Third Culture Peter Weibel, 2005-05-17 A new theory of culture presented with a new method achieved by comparing closely the art and science in 20th century Austria and Hungary Major achievements that have influenced the world like psychoanalysis abstract art quantum physics Gestalt psychology formal languages vision theories and the game theory etc originated from these countries and influence the world still today as a result of exile nurtured in the US A source book with numerous photographs images and diagrams it opens up a nearly infinite horizon of knowledge that helps one to understand what is going on in today's worlds of art and science Shapes of Time Michael McGillen, 2023-12-15 Shapes of Time explores how concepts of time and history were spatialized in early twentieth century German thought Michael McGillen locates efforts in German modernism to conceive of alternative shapes of time beyond those of historicism and nineteenth century philosophies of history at the boundary between secular and theological discourses By analyzing canonical works of German modernism those of Karl Barth Franz Rosenzweig Siegfried Kracauer and Robert Musil he identifies the ways in which spatial imagery and metaphors were employed to both separate the end of history from a narrative framework and to map the liminal relation between history and eschatology Drawing on theories and practices as disparate as constructivism non Euclidean geometry photography and urban architecture Shapes of Time presents original connections between modernism theology and mathematics as played out within the canon of twentieth century German letters Concepts of temporal and spatial form McGillen contends contribute to the understanding not only of modernist literature but also of larger theoretical concerns within modern cultural and intellectual history Sculpture Daniel Kunitz, 2003-07 The Constructivist Moment Barrett Watten, 2012-01-01 Winner of the American Comparative Literature Association's Rene Wellek Prize 2004 As one of the founding poets and editors of the Language School of poetry and one of its central theorists Barrett Watten has consistently challenged the boundaries of literature and art In The Constructivist Moment he offers a series of theoretically informed and textually sensitive readings that advance a revisionist account of the avant garde through the methodologies of cultural studies His major topics include American modernist and postmodern poetics Soviet constructivist and post Soviet literature and art Fordism and Detroit techno each proposed as exemplary of the social construction of aesthetic and cultural forms His book is a full scale attempt to place the linguistic turn of critical theory and the self reflexive foregrounding of language by the avant garde since the Russian Formalists in relation to the cultural politics of postcolonial studies feminism and race theory As such it will provide a crucial revisionist perspective within modernist and avant garde studies Arts & Architecture, 1966 Photography: History and Theory Jae Emerling, 2013-03-01 Photography History and Theory introduces students to both the history of photography and critical theory From its inception in the nineteenth century photography has instigated a series of theoretical debates In this new text Jae Emerling therefore argues that the most insightful way to approach the histories of photography is to address simultaneously the key events of photographic history alongside the theoretical discourse that accompanied them While the nineteenth century is discussed the central focus of the text is on modern and contemporary photographic theory Particular attention is paid to key thinkers such as Baudelaire Barthes and Sontag In addition the centrality of photography to contemporary art practice is addressed through the theoretical work of Allan Sekula John Tagg Rosalind Krauss and Vil m Flusser The text also includes readings of many canonical photographers and exhibitions including Atget Brassai August Sander Walker Evans The Family of Man Diane Arbus Lee Friedlander Cindy Sherman Bernd and Hilla Becher Sebastiao Salgado Jeff Wall and others In addition Emerling provides close readings of key passages from some major theoretical texts These glosses come between the chapters and serve as a conceptual line that connects them Glosses include Roland Barthes The Rhetoric of the Image 1964 Susan Sontag Regarding the Pain of Others 2002 Michel Foucault on the archive 1969 Walter Benjamin Little History of Photography 1931

The Architectural Review ,1987 Isamu Noguchi Valerie J. Joann M. Skrypzak,2008-10 During the turbulent years of the Weimar Republic 1918 1933 sports emerged as a popular phenomenon that critics often derided as a degenerate fad But sports and art institutions as well as avant garde artists looked more closely at sports potential to rejuvenate a populace demoralized by World War I and cultivate a more dynamic harmonious society This book examines images of sports in the visual arts of Weimar Germany to explore how institutions and artists forged a link between sports and art and gave new visual form to notions about the ideal body. It looks at the 1930 Berlin art exhibition Sports as Cultural Factor and sports at the Bauhaus and investigates the sports pictures of László Moholy-Nagy, Anton R. Derscheidt and Willi Baumeister as exemplary case studies. Besides examining Weimar sports culture and its link to art, this study illuminates the complex ways in which artists used the motif of the athletic body to define humans' relation to modernity while addressing issues of industrialization, gender, mind/body dualism and the promotion of sports. This engaging work will be of particular value to readers interested in modern art, sports and culture in Germany. □□□□□, 1999
