Obesity Discourse and Fat Politics Lee Monaghan,Rachel

Colls,Bethan Evans,2015-12-22 There is considerable rhetoric and concern about weight and obesity across an increasing range of national contexts Alarmist claims about an obesity time bomb are continually recycled in policy reports reviews and white papers each of which begin with the assumption that fatness is fundamentally unhealthy and damaging to national economies With contributions from the UK Canada the USA and Australia this book offers alternative critical perspectives on this alleged public health crisis which were in part developed through an Economic and Social Research Council seminar series on Fat Studies and Health at Every Size HAES Written by scholars from a range of disciplines and the health professions themes include an interrogation of statistical procedures used to construct the obesity epidemic overweight and obesity as cultural signifiers for Type 2 diabetes understandings of healthy eating and healthy weight in a problem population gendered expectations on men and women to lose weight the visual representation of obesity tensions when researching anti fatness critical dietitians engagement with HAES alternative ways of promoting physical activity and representations of obesity in the media This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Public Health Obesity in Canada Jenny Ellison,Deborah McPhail,Wendy Mitchinson,2016-05-12 Medical professionals social policy makers and the media have all declared that Canada is in the grip of an obesity epidemic Conceptualizing obesity as a biological condition these experts insist that it needs to be prevented and managed Obesity in Canada takes a broader critical perspective of our supposed epidemic Examining obesity in its cultural and historical context the book s contributors ask how we measure health and wellness where our attitudes to obesity develop from and what the consequences are of naming and targeting as obese those whose body weights do not match our expectations A broad survey of the issues surrounding the obesity panic in Canada it is the first collection of fat studies and critical obesity studies from a distinctly Canadian perspective Runner's World ,2006
