Bradley Cousins, 2007 Conceptions of use are grounded within a common conception that use and influence can be traced to evaluation findings or to the knowledge outputs of evaluative activities Yet a qualitatively different type of use and impact began to emerge from evaluation practice and research on it This other sort of consequence process use appeared to be attributable to something wholly independent of evaluation findings specifically the activities or processes of evaluation as opposed to its products or outputs This volume is a multifaceted exploration of process use it includes methodological empirical and conceptual inquiries as well as rich narrative forays into the domain of evaluation practice Such a comprehensive approach serves to deepen understanding of process use as being pivotal in contemporary theory on evaluation consequences This is the 116th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation a publication of Jossey Bass and the American Evaluation Association The journal publishes empirical methodological and theoretical works on all aspects of evaluation Operations Research Analysis in Test and Evaluation Donald L. Gadiroshich, 1995 This text represents a significant contribution to the available technical literature on military and commercial test and evaluation T E The first chapter provides important history and addresses the vital relationship of quality T E to the acquisition and operations of defense weapons systems Subsequent chapters cover such concepts as cost and operational effectiveness analysis modeling and simulation and verification validation and accreditation among others Theorists' Models in Action Marvin Alkin, 2005-08-11 This volume analyzes how evaluation theorists apply their approach in practice A scenario of a situation at an elementary school is presented to four prominent theorists who describe how they would design and conduct an evaluation of the school's program The editors consider the theorists' proposed evaluations as well as their subsequent comments to develop themes related to the influence of theory and context on practice They also provide a comparative analysis of the theorists' evaluation approaches in relation to the context of evaluation case presented Evaluation theorists seem to be quite good at propounding on how they think the evaluation world ought to work Yet do we really know that what theorists say they would do in practice is indeed what they would actually do Evaluation after all is situational Each context offers its own constituency set of values programmatic elements bureaucratic hurdles and other variables This volume demonstrates why evaluators need to adapt their point of view to a particular situation and provides much needed study and analysis on the way in which they make those adaptations This is the 106th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation Essentials of Industrial and Organizational Psychology William Carl Howell, Robert L.
