Everyday Editing Inviting Students To Develop Skill And Craft In Writers Workshop:

Everyday Editing Jeff Anderson, 2007 Editing is often seen as one item on a list of steps in the writing process usually put somewhere near the end and often completely crowded out of writer's workshop. Too many times daily editing lessons happen in a vacuum with no relationship to what students are writing. In Everyday Editing Jeff Anderson asks teachers to reflect on what sort of message this approach sends to students. Does it tell them that editing and revision are meaningful parts of the writing process or just a hunt for errors with a 50/50 chance of getting it right: comma or no comma. Instead of rehearsing errors and drilling students on what's wrong with a sentence, Jeff invites students to look carefully at their writing along with mentor texts and to think about how punctuation, grammar, and style can be best used to hone and communicate meaning. Written in Jeff's characteristically witty style, this refreshing and practical guide offers an overview of his approach to editing within the writing workshop as well as ten detailed sets of lessons covering everything from apostrophes to serial commas. These lessons can be used throughout the year to replace Daily Oral Language or error-based editing strategies with a more effective method for improving student writing.

Becoming a Teacher of Writing in Elementary Classrooms

Donna Kalmbach Phillips, Mindy Legard Larson, 2015-12-22 Becoming a Teacher of Writing in Elementary Classrooms nurtures teachers' identities as writers, connects to the realities of writing instruction in real and diverse classrooms, and encourages critical and creative thinking. This text is about writing instruction as a journey teachers and students embark on together. The focus is on learning how to teach writing through specific teaching and learning structures found in the Writing Studio: mini lessons, teacher and peer conferencing, guided writing, and sharing, celebrating, and broadcasting writing. Pedagogical features include teaching structures and strategies, Problematising Practice, classroom scenarios, assessment resources, and a Companion Website. Because a teacher who views him or herself as a writer is best positioned to implement the Writing Studio, a parallel text Becoming a Writer gives readers space to consider who they are as a writer, their personal process as a writer, and who they might become as a writer.

Teaching Culturally Sustaining and Inclusive Young Adult Literature R. Joseph Rodriguez, 2018-07-11 In this book Rodriguez uses theories of critical literacy and culturally responsive teaching to argue that our schools and our culture need sustaining and inclusive young adult (YA) literature to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse readers and all students. This book provides an outline for the study of literature through cultural and literary criticism via essays that analyze selected YA literature: drama, fiction, nonfiction, and poetry in four areas: scribal identities and the self-affirmation of adolescents, gender and sexualities, schooling and education of young adult characters, and teachers' roles and influences in characters coming of age. Applying critical literacy theories and a youth studies lens, this book shines a light on the need for culturally sustaining and inclusive pedagogies to read adolescent worlds. Complementing these essays are critical conversations with seven key contemporary YA literature writers, adding biographical perspectives to further expand the critical scholarship and merits of YA literature.
