Global And National Macroeconometric Modelling A Long Run Structural Approach:

Global and National Macroeconometric Modelling Anthony Garratt, 2006-08-03 Providing a description of the state of modelling in global and national economies this title introduces an approach to modelling that can readily be adopted for use in understanding how economies work and in generating forecasts for decision makers and policy makers alike

Macroeconometric Models for Portfolio Management Jeremy Kwok, 2021-09-07 Macroeconometric Models for Portfolio Management begins by outlining a portfolio management framework into which macroeconometric models and backtesting investment strategies are integrated It is followed by a discussion on the theoretical backgrounds of both small and global large macroeconometric models including data selection estimation and applications Other practical concerns essential to managing a portfolio with decisions driven by macro models are also covered model validation forecast combination and evaluation The author then focuses on applying these models and their results on managing the portfolio including making trading rules and asset allocation across different assets and risk management The book finishes by showing portfolio examples where different investment strategies are used and illustrate how the framework can be applied from the beginning of collecting data model estimation and generating forecasts to how to manage portfolios accordingly This book aims to bridge the gap between academia and practising professionals Readers will attain a rigorous understanding of the theory and how to apply these models to their portfolios Therefore Macroeconometric Models for Portfolio Management will be of interest to academics and scholars working in macroeconomics and finance to industry professionals working in financial economics and asset management to asset managers and investors who prefer systematic investing over discretionary investing and to investors who have a strong interest in macroeconomic influences on their portfolio

Macroeconometric Models Władysław Welfe, 2013-02-15 This book gives a comprehensive description of macroeconometric modeling and its development over time The first part depicts the history of macroeconometric model building starting with Jan Tinbergen's and Lawrence R Klein's contributions It is unique in summarizing the development and specific structure of macroeconometric models built in North America Europe and various other parts of the world The work thus offers an extensive source for researchers in the field The second part of the book covers the systematic characteristics of macroeconometric models It includes the household and enterprise sectors disequilibria financial flows and money market sectors

Time Series and Panel Data Econometrics M. Hashem Pesaran, 2015-10-01 This book is concerned with recent developments in time series and panel data techniques for the analysis of macroeconomic and financial data It provides a rigorous nevertheless user friendly account of the time series techniques dealing with univariate and multivariate time series models as well as panel data models It is distinct from other time series texts in the sense that it also covers panel data models and attempts at a more coherent integration of time series multivariate analysis and panel data models It builds on the author's extensive research in the areas of time series and panel data analysis and covers a wide variety of topics in one volume Different parts of the book can be used as teaching material for a variety of courses in econometrics It can also be used as reference manual It begins with an overview of basic econometric and statistical techniques and provides an account of stochastic processes univariate and multivariate time series tests for unit roots cointegration impulse response analysis autoregressive conditional heteroskedasticity models simultaneous equation models vector autoregressions causality forecasting multivariate volatility models panel data models aggregation and global vector autoregressive models GVAR The techniques are illustrated using Microfit 5 Pesaran and Pesaran 2009 OUP with applications to real output inflation interest rates exchange rates and stock prices

Latin America Ms.Dora M. Iakova,Mr.Luis M. Cubeddu,Gustavo Adler,Mr.Sebastian Sosa,2014-12-23 Over the past fifteen years countries in Latin America made tremendous progress in strengthening their economies and improving living standards Although output fell temporarily during the global financial crisis most economies staged a rapid recovery However economic activity across the region has been cooling off and the region is facing a more challenging period ahead This book argues that Latin America can rise to the challenge and policymakers in the region are already implementing reforms in education energy and other sectors More is needed and more is possible in Latin America s quest to continue to improve living standards

Financial Linkages, Remittances, and Resource Dependence in East Asia Takuji E. T. Al KINKYO,2016-01-06 The purpose of this book is to empirically analyse the multifaceted nature of financial linkages in East Asia and to discuss the key policy challenges faced by the region s economies Although the emphasis is placed on East Asia some of the chapters cover a broader area of countries depending on the aim of the study Particular areas of focus in these studies include the evolution of cross border financial linkages in East Asia long run economic consequences of remittance inflows and natural resource dependence and policy priorities for the financial integration and management of resource rich economies

Oil Prices, External Income, and Growth Mr.Kamiar Mohaddes,Mr.Mehdi Raissi,2011-12-01 This paper extends the long run growth model of Esfahani et al 2009 to a labor exporting country that receives large inflows of external income the sum of remittances FDI and general government transfers from major oil exporting economies The theoretical model predicts real oil prices to be one of the main long run drivers of real output Using quarterly data between 1979 and 2009 on core macroeconomic variables for Jordan and a number of key foreign variables we identify two long run relationships an output equation as predicted by theory and an equation linking foreign and domestic inflation rates It is shown that real output in the long run is shaped by i oil prices through their impact on external income and in turn on capital accumulation and ii technological transfers through foreign output The empirical analysis of the paper confirms the hypothesis that a large share of Jordan s output volatility can be associated with fluctuations in net income received from abroad External factors however cannot be relied upon to provide similar growth stimuli in the future and therefore it will be important to diversify the sources of growth in order to achieve a high and sustained level of income
