W. Mina, Ryan P. Shepherd, 2024-02-15 Multimodal Composing and Writing Transfer explores transfer across various contexts of multimodal composing extending the early conversations connecting multimodality to writing Contributors address how writing transfer theories intersect with multimodal composing and present methods for facilitating transfer across modes and media offering insight into how writers can learn to compose when they encounter familiar modes in new contexts Over the past two decades the concepts of multimodal composing and writing transfer have grown and reshaped the nature of writing studies but rarely have the ways in which these areas overlap been studied This collection shows how this shift in writing studies has been mutually informative covering a wider range of contexts for multimodality and writing transfer than just in first year composition courses It places composition teaching practices and multimodal research in conversation with learning transfer theory to provide an in depth examination of how they influence one another Multimodal Composing and Writing Transfer develops these intersections to connect multimodal composition and writing practices across a wide array of fields and contexts Scholars across disciplines postsecondary writing teachers writing program administrators writing center directors and graduate students will find this collection indispensable

Understanding Everyday Communicative Interactions Julie A. Hengst, 2020-03-25 Understanding Everyday Communicative Interactions is a unique text that uses a situated discourse analysis SDA framework to examine basic human communication and the interactions of those with communicative disorders in everyday and clinical settings The book introduces SDA as a theoretical and empirical approach for examining the complexities of communicative interaction It explores how people collaborate in everyday contexts to communicate successfully and how they learn to do so From close analysis of a pretend game played by two children and their father to an observation of a man with aphasia and his family at a football match the present volume offers rich portraits of communicative lives and illustrates the applications of SDA The final part of the book uses SDA methods to demonstrate how clinicians can function as communication partners even during assessments and can design rich communicative environments for therapeutic interventions In explaining the SDA framework and equipping readers with the tools to understand the nature of human communication this sophisticated and engaging book will be an essential reference for students researchers and clinicians in communication sciences and disorders
