Donogoo Tonka Or The Miracles Of Science A Cinematographic Tale Forum Project Publications:

Donogoo-Tonka or the Miracles of Science Jules Romain, 2012-11-28 Donogoo Tonka or the Miracles of Science A Cinematographic Tale is a mock film scenario written by the French novelist Jules Romain. It was first published in book form in 1920 and has never been translated into English. The satirical plot concerns a famous geographer whose academic career is about to be derailed by the revelation that he has invented a city in South America. Through a hilarious sequence of events, a suicidal young man finds a new mission in life by undertaking to found the fictional city, thereby redeeming the error and reputation of the absentminded professor.

Donogoo Tonka Or the Miracles of Science Jules Romain, 2009-02-04 A highly original contribution to avant garde poetics, beautifully translated by Brian Evenson, the novel makes innovative use of boxed intertitles, a graphic device that influenced period writers and filmmakers. Joan Ockman's afterword, accompanied by more than two dozen illustrations, places Donogoo Tonka into a rich historical context, delving into questions of urban geography, the early relations between literature and cinema, and Romain's forgotten philosophy of unanimism.

BOOK JACKET Léger Christian Derouet, Maria Gough, Spyros Papapetros, Jennifer Wild, 2013 An insightful look at the dynamic relationship between modern art and modern urban life in 1920s Paris through the lens of Fernand Léger's masterpiece The City. With his landmark 1919 painting The City, Fernand Léger (1881-1955) inaugurated a vitally experimental decade during which he and others redefined the practice of painting in confrontation with the forms of cultural production that were central to urban life, ranging from graphic and advertising design to theater, dance, film, and architecture. This catalogue casts new light on the painting, reproducing all of its studies together for the first time, the avant garde use of print media, and Léger's fascination with cinema and architecture, and contextualizes a network of international avant gardes including Blaise Cendrars, Le Corbusier, Jean Epstein, Piet Mondrian, André Ozenfant, Francis Picabia, and Theo van Doesburg in relation to Léger. Featuring nearly 250 images of paintings, architectural designs, models, posters, set designs, and film stills, and an anthology of relevant historical texts not previously published in English, this handsome volume conveys the spirit of experimentation of the 1920s. Scholars in the fields of art, architecture, and film history offer a deeper understanding of the relationship between art and the modern urban experience that defined this significant chapter in the history of modern art.
