Wilson,2001-04 What would your reaction be if assaulted at knifepoint If you were kidnapped or were at the mercy of a lunatic for hours If you remained alive would you contact the authorities Thousands of women are attacked every year but only an estimated 1 in 20 ever reports the incident to the police Just 1 in 10 of those ever follows through with the process of pressing charges and only 1 in 10 of those remaining ever sees the inside of a courtroom This allows too many criminals to continue to freely roam the streets able to viciously attack again again This story is a completely true account of an assault abduction where the victim was fortunate enough to be able to walk away unharmed and the 6 months of various events that followed Every woman from young teens to the elderly should read the information contained in these pages something in them may someday be very useful and save their lives or help put their attacker behind thick steel bars in prison The Legacy Tree Herman Jasper,2021-07-28 This story takes a look at the effect of racial injustice on the mind of a Black seventeen year old above average high school graduate in Philadelphia who finds himself caught between two worlds Disillusioned by what he sees as unjustified murders of African American men and women by people sworn to protect and serve Kenny makes the decision to explore the fast money option of drug dealing He barely escapes a police sting operation and as a result is sent to spend the summer with family members who live on a farm in Georgia Kenny meets some like minded young people in Georgia which presents the opportunity to continue his pursuit of fast money while his family endeavors to turn him away from the streets and toward higher education Will they be able to overcome his righteous indignation and cynicism in time to save him from prison or worse
