Double Vision An East West Collaboration For Coping With Cancer:

Double Vision Alexandra Dundas Todd, 1994-10-26 A mother's extraordinary search for healing among the medical practices of East and West When Alexandra Todd's 21 year old son is diagnosed with cancer the family embarks on an odyssey that ultimately steers an expansive course between the gleaming technologies of traditional Western medicine and the gentle arts of alternative healing

Double Vision Alexandra Dundas Todd, John Andrew Todd, 1994-01-01 Todd a medical sociologist describes her son's compelling struggle against Cancer in strong personal language At the same time she also reflects on larger issues of U S health care such as social class and accessibility to treatment conventional medicine's often intractable power structure and the effects of globalization on medical knowledge Offers practical info on macrobiotic foods and recipes cookbooks mail order companies org's for nutritional education and referrals selected readings on mind body connections and Chinese and holistic medicine and addresses of stress reduction and Chinese holistic medical centers

Living With Colon Cancer Eliza Wood Livingston, 2009-12-30 In this helpful and inspiring book the author provides a wealth of practical information about colon cancer while telling of her own battle against this challenging disease

Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999 Serious illness and mortality those most universal unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate a new literary genre has emerged pathography the personal narrative concerning illness treatment and sometimes death Hawkins's sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter One factor emerges again and again in these case studies the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease Pathography allows the individual person a voice one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling thinking experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise Recommended for medical practitioners the clergy caregivers students of popular culture and the general reader Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor's and the patient's voice will we have a medicine that is truly human Silicone Survivors Susan M. Zimmermann,1998 Susan Zimmermann talked with forty women about perhaps one of the most sensitive issues of body image and health their breasts the chief attribute of femininity In the aftermath of the early 1990s controversy over the use of silicone breast implants how do women decide to undergo surgery o enhance or reconstruct their bodies How does surgery alter a woman s self image How did they face the possibility of debilitating autoimmune disease from rupturing or leaking implants Some opted for breast implants after mastectomies others for cosmetic reasons Some felt empowered by the surgery Being a woman I just like breasts and felt like I got ripped off I did it for myself Others were pressured by their husbands He used to make fun of parts of my body And he made me believe that if I was ever to leave him no one would have anything to do with me because I was this deformed type of person After surgery some women were ecstatic while others had a sense of inner conflict about what they had done to themselves were they faking it And a few were angry I was really angry inside that I had had to put plastic bags filled with chemicals in my body in order for me to feel like I could do the Hoochie Koo on Saturday nights I didn t wear tight clothes I didn t want my children to find out Now having faced years of medical and personal uncertainty many have coped by reassessing their lives and their relationships by sharing information and support with other women with implants outreach that became a means for self empowerment Alternative & Complementary Therapies ,1998 Facing Cancer Theodore A. Stern,Mikhael A.

Sekeres,2004 Cancer is the second leading cause of death worldwide accounting for nearly 600 000 deaths annually in the United States alone Health Freaks Travis A. Weisse,2024-09-03 Travis A Weisse tells a new history of modern diets in America that goes beyond the familiar narrative of the nation s collective failure to lose weight By exploring how the popularity of diets grew alongside patients frustrations with the limitations and failures of the American healthcare system in the face of chronic disease Weisse argues that millions of Americans sought fad diets such as the notorious Atkins program which ushered in the low carbohydrate craze to wrest control of their health from pessimistic doctors and lifelong pharmaceutical regimens Drawing on novel archival sources and a wide variety of popular media Weisse shows the lengths to which twentieth century American dieters went to heal themselves outside the borders of orthodox medicine and the subsequent political and scientific backlash they received Through colorful profiles of the leaders of four major diet movements Health Freaks demonstrates that these diet gurus weren't shady snake oil salesmen preying on the vulnerable rather they were vocal champions for millions of frustrated Americans seeking longer healthier lives
