Dosha For Life The Ancient Ayurvedic Science Of Self Healing:

Dosha for Life Linda Bretherton, Jim Whitham, 2007 The three common Ayurvedic body types known as doshas which are comprised of vata, pitta and kapha are explained in this guide as are the factors that are prone to damaging each type. Based on the premise that individuals are born with their own doshas and the whole perception of life's experiences is affected by them, the book shows how imbalances created by nutritional factors, environmental changes, stress levels and long standing habits damage the natural flows of energy that should be experienced. By incorporating the guide's simple daily activities that give nourishment at both the physical and spiritual level, regeneration and enrichment on a daily basis is possible. Dosha for Life Linda Bretherton, 2007 , The Seven Ways of Ayurveda: Discover Your Dosha, Tap Into Your Strengths - and Thrive in Work, Love, and Life Sarah Kucera, 2022-05-24 A guide to the Ayurvedic personality types or doshas with psychology based advice on cultivating balance from the author of The Ayurvedic Self Care Handbook. At the core of Ayurveda is an understanding that we are all made of the same materials: the five elements of ether, space, air, fire, water and earth, and how you look, think and feel can be traced back to your unique proportion of these elements at any given time. This is your dosha, the true essence of who you are. Knowing your dosha is the key to deeper self knowledge, easier relationships and a happier future. In The Seven Ways of Ayurveda you will discover which type fits you best: Vata creator, multitasker, artist; Pitta perfectionist, challenger, leader; Kapha peacemaker, nurturer, lover. Vata Pitta performer, innovator, first responder; Pitta Kapha guardian, moralist, observer. Vata Kapha dreamer, supporter, conversationalist. Tri Dosha proficient in all trades, well rounded. Then you will identify your innate strengths and their shadow sides, whether you're out of balance and what to do, how your unique type approaches work, love, travel and more, and how to forge true mutual understanding with friends and loved ones whose doshas may differ. When you know yourself better, you can take better care of yourself and others too.
