

Sun, Earth, Moon System

The Sun

The Sun is a star, called a main sequence star. It is a glowing ball of gas, called plasma, held together by gravity. The Sun's energy is produced by nuclear fusion in its core.

The Earth's Moon

The Moon is a rocky, airless sphere. It is the only celestial body in the sky other than the Sun to be visible to the naked eye.

Phases of the Moon

The Moon orbits the Earth, and as it orbits, it shows different phases. The phases are determined by the relative positions of the Sun, Earth, and Moon.

When the portion of the Moon that is lit by the Sun is visible from Earth, it is called a waxing phase. When the portion is not visible, it is called a waning phase.

Earth's Seasons

The Earth's axis is tilted, and as it orbits the Sun, different parts of the Earth receive more or less direct sunlight. This causes the seasons.

Earth - Inside & Out

The Earth is made up of three main layers: the crust, the mantle, and the core.

Earth's surface has many shapes and features. Mountains are landforms that rise above the surrounding land.

Changing Earth's Surface

- Weathering - physical & chemical
- Erosion
- Deposition
- Landforms
- Volcanoes
- Earthquakes

The Earth's surface changes constantly because of wind, water, temperature changes, and living things. Landforms change constantly due to weathering, which is the process of rocks breaking into smaller pieces.

The movement of land that has been weathered is called erosion. Erosion is caused by water, wind, gravity, and glaciers. Deposition is the laying down of pieces of Earth's surface. Over time, these landforms can be changed by erosion and deposition.

Some things that occur to nature, such as earthquakes, volcanoes, and changes to the Earth's surface.

Earthquakes also cause rapid changes to the Earth's surface. An earthquake is a sudden shift in the Earth's crust that causes the ground to shake and release energy.

A volcano is a hole in the Earth's crust that allows molten rock, called magma, to flow out. It is often surrounded by a mountain.

Glaciers are large masses of ice that move slowly down a slope. They are formed from snow and ice that has accumulated over time.
