The Water Fall John S. Goscinski, 2015-01-15 John

Benumeane a budding solar engineer whos just moved to Southern California learns the hard way how cruel and unrelenting Mother Nature can be Its the winter of 2004 an El Nio is back with a vengeance A horrific weather related accident a car collision with a two hundred year old eucalyptus tree lands John in the hospital where he spends the next two years in a coma locked in a struggle between life and death He awakens in a different world than the one he left Although he suffers no physical impairment from the terrible accident he finds he has a supernatural power that slowly takes control of his life His own impetuous behavior is rivaled only by that of his wife who in her own bid to survive the lonely years without him has reinvented herself in ways that defy description The challenge for the two young lovers is to find common ground that will lead them back to the life they once knew But that ground is elusive and unstable prompting Johns wife to turn to Johns old college friend for help and when she does the plot thickens By then a drought has gripped the Lower Forty Eight and the real estate market is hyperventilating from reckless malfeasance with Johns wife in the center of it all The people she works for want to own John and the very special gift he s come to possess but she has other ideas Her story within a story has twists and turns that will keep you guessing till the very end

Shades of a Forgotten Town Sondra Wolferman, 2025-01-10 Valerie

Reynolds a graduate student working on her doctoral thesis for a PhD in History at Lewistown University has chosen as her topic the legend of an Eighteenth Century settlement formerly a bustling coal and railroad town in the anthracite coal region of northeastern Pennsylvania that was annihilated by a catastrophic flood in the early 1900s While researching her topic Valerie travels with a companion to the site of the ghost town of Lausanne Landing where a cluster of archaeological relics and collapsed buildings known locally as the Lausanne Ruins is still standing albeit in varying states of decrepitude having survived a hundred years of withering Pennsylvania winters During their exploration of the Lausanne Ruins Valerie and her companion befriend a homeless stranger who is camped among the ruins at the bottom of a collapsed foundation in the surrounding forest As it turns out their new acquaintance has an ignominious past that he shares with the young explorers during their sojourn at the Lausanne Ruins Despite the stranger s long history of marital discord addiction to gambling betrayal of loved ones and possible ties to an unsolved murder Valerie finds herself for reasons unknown even to herself developing an affinity for this transient whose disreputable past is so at odds with his benign personality causing Valerie to draw parallels between the dilapidated ruins where they meet for the first time and the shambles Saul has made of his life
