It provides an intuitive user interface for editors and computer users alike so that anyone new to non-linear editing will quickly be producing quality results. EditDV provides a QuickTime® compatible integrated environment capable of delivering both professional quality and ease of use. The time has arrived for desktop video editing without the struggle of cables, disk arrays and special OS tweaks. With QuickTime, DV format devices and EditDV, professional non-linear editing on the desktop is a reality for the Mac® OS. The new Apple G3 with built-in FireWire® provides all you need to produce professional video and only you will be able to tell you did it on the desktop.

DraftDV™ - Fast Client Approval Copies.

EditDV includes DraftDV, a specialized rendering mode unique to EditDV, providing a 3-5x improvement in rendering time. This allows users to efficiently watch their work as it unfolds and quickly communicate their preliminary versions to clients.

Digital In - Digital Out.

End-to-end digital video production means the picture quality of your camera is never compromised. The LiveDV™ feature provides full screen interactive preview of all DV footage allowing users to easily set marks on the fly. With FireWire, users can transfer digital video into and out of their computer with a single cable connected to the DV camera or VTR. EditDV works with your DV device over the FireWire providing complete control over the media for unattended batch capture or realtime clip transfer.

Powerful Professional 3-point Editing.

While EditDV is accessible to the non-linear newcomer, the experienced editor will recognize the same kind of flexible user interface and sophisticated editing features found in more expensive systems. Working within the parameters of familiar Macintosh direct manipulation drag and drop, EditDV is a professional style 3-point editor providing for L-cuts, J-cuts, back-timing and fit-to-fill. All editing is available via keyboard control for efficiency, or easily handled with the mouse for convenience.

AVA for Speed, High-Quality DV Effects, and Flexibility.

Digital Origin's software codec, AVA® (Advanced Video Architecture), provides the fastest rendering possible for your graphics and special effects. AVA is user adjustable to provide the best quality playback suited to your system. And it provides the flexibility for you to continue editing when your DV device is being used elsewhere.

Perfect Aspect Ratio DV.

Non-square pixels are a fact of life on a video screen. EditDV was designed to create the precise non-square pixel aspect ratio for DV footage. Whether you finish to video tape, CD-ROM or the Web you can produce the highest quality effects and video with EditDV.
