Human Impacts and Biodiversity

Sustainable use of an ecosystem means using an ecosystem's resources in a way that meets our current needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their needs.

There are three levels of biodiversity:

1. Biodiversity is the variety of species on Earth - the number of different types of organisms in an area. High levels of biodiversity are associated with a healthy and sustainable environment.
2. There is diversity within a species. Differences among individuals of the same species are called genetic diversity. Lack of genetic diversity in a population can threaten survival and even lead to extinction.
3. Biodiversity also refers to the variety of ecosystems found on Earth. Because different ecosystems provide different services, it is important to maintain as many types of ecosystems as possible.

Human activity has caused all levels of biodiversity to decrease at a rapid rate. The five major causes of this are:

- Habitat Change
- Overexploitation
