Encyclopedia of Science and Technology Communication Susanna Hornig Priest, 2010-07-14 The explosion of scientific information is exacerbating the information gap between richer poorer educated less educated publics The proliferation of media technology and the popularity of the Internet help some keep up with these developments but also make it more likely others fall further behind This is taking place in a globalizing economy and society that further complicates the division between information haves and have nots and compounds the challenge of communicating about emerging science and technology to increasingly diverse audiences Journalism about science and technology must fill this gap yet journalists and journalism students themselves struggle to keep abreast of contemporary scientific developments Scientist aided by public relations and public information professionals must get their stories out not only to other scientists but also to broader public audiences Funding agencies increasingly expect their grantees to engage in outreach and education and such activity can be seen as both a survival strategy and an ethical imperative for taxpayer supported university based research Science communication often in new forms must expand to meet all these needs Providing a comprehensive introduction to students professionals and scholars in this area is a unique challenge because practitioners in these fields must grasp both the principles of science and the principles of science communication while understanding the social contexts of each For this reason science journalism and science communication are often addressed only in advanced undergraduate or graduate specialty courses rather than covered exhaustively in lower division courses Even so those entering the field rarely will have a comprehensive background in both science and communication studies This circumstance underscores the importance of compiling useful reference materials The Encyclopedia of Science and

Technology Communication presents resources and strategies for science communicators including theoretical material and background on recent controversies and key institutional actors and sources Science communicators need to understand more than how to interpret scientific facts and conclusions they need to understand basic elements of the politics sociology and philosophy of science as well as relevant media and communication theory principles of risk communication new trends and how to evaluate the effectiveness of science communication programmes to mention just a few of the major challenges This work will help to develop and enhance such understanding as it addresses these challenges and more Topics covered include advocacy policy and research organizations environmental and health communication philosophy of science media theory and science communication informal science education science journalism as a profession risk communication theory public understanding of science pseudo science in the news special problems in reporting science and technology science communication ethics

YOU: Having a Baby Michael F. Roizen, Mehmet Oz, 2009-12-01 America's favorite doctors Michael Roizen and Mehmet Oz cover pregnancy from conception to birth with the ins and outs of nutrition exercise hormones fetal development and many more pregnancy related issues Few life experiences feature emotional swings as extreme as those of pregnancy it's a monumental mix of both intense excitement and skip a beat anxiety How do you respond to such a situation If you're like most you scour websites read books browse blogs and pick the brains of every friend family member and store clerk who's ever had a baby You talk about the ups and downs the cravings and the nausea the maternity clothes and the stretch marks During this 280 day journey this sometimes scattered mindset is perfectly natural and healthy Often though you need help cutting through the clutter In YOU Having a Baby Dr Mehmet Oz and Dr Michael Roizen America's Doctors will help ease your tension by teaching you not only about what you can do but also why you should do it Using their signature wit and wisdom they'll test your knowledge bust many myths and reassure you that your maternal instincts are usually pretty darn good After all the doctors want the exact same thing as you do during this journey a healthy baby and a healthy mom Be assured that YOU Having a Baby will be one of your favorite passengers on this wonderful ride

Vaccines for Biodefense and Emerging and Neglected Diseases Alan D.T. Barrett, Lawrence R. Stanberry, 2009-03-05 The last 20 years has seen a rapid increase in infectious diseases particularly those that are termed emerging diseases such as SARS neglected diseases such as malaria and those that are deemed biothreats such as anthrax It is well recognized that the most effective modality for preventing infectious diseases is vaccination This book provides researchers with a better understanding of what is currently known about these diseases including whether there is a vaccine available or under development It also informs readers of the key issues in development of a vaccine for each disease Provides a comprehensive treatise of the agents that are responsible for emerging and neglected diseases and those that can be used as biothreats Includes the processes such as the vaccine development pathway vaccine manufacturing and regulatory issues that are critical to the generation of these vaccines to the marketplace Each chapter will include a map of
